Homepage

I don't know that I need the top 20 drug searches, I'd probably just hit search

I'd like to see a brief explanation of your site in the tagline, to tell me what it's for, who's using it

It's a little hard to read the label in most recent recalls, maybe make it bold or something

Search Results

I'd like to see the count, [amount of results] at the top of the search results

There's a font discrepancy – it's way smaller than on the homepage, it's hard to read. Tiny here

Have you thought about a large font size mode, like a large text option for seniors?

On this filters panel on the left, normally I'd expect the count [21 OTC] to have the number in parenthesis.

I'd also expect a check box to let me know I can click and interact with it.

Details Page

The tab here – is this a tab? The selection stroke looks weird. It's not like a tab.

This line goes all the way under it, and it's not like how tabs should look.

Can each of your pages have titles? Help me remember where I am?

Tablets Designs Review

I like the font and text here.

I like the way the tab looks in the design.

Bar graph on the details page, warnings tab – this could use a legend or explanation.

Am I scrolling down or is all this on the same page?
Maybe you could make the tabs look more different. Different background color?

The recall label is still hard to read sometimes – make sure that's a big font or bold

The icon on the recall page looks like an alien head. Is that because it's tiny?
